Malik Says Troops Move Into Lebanon

Asks UN Council To Deal With
UAR Terrorism

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Foreign Minister Charles Malik charged Friday that President Nasser's United Arab Republic is moving men and arms into Lebanon "this very minute."

Malik appeared at a news conference here to stress Lebanese accusations against the U.A.R. at the United Nations.

Lebanon has asked the U. N. Security Council to deal with its charges that U. A. R. terrorism aims at overthrowing the government of pro-Western President Camille Chamoun.

Appealed To Council
Lebanon has also appealed to the Arab League Council to weigh its accusations.

Malik told the news conference: "Armed hands are moving from Syria into Lebanon and it is going on this very minute. This threatens the independence of Lebanon."

The 14-day crisis here showed no signs of lessening.

At least 200 have died in anti-government rioting here and in Lebanese Tripoli. Some U. S. property has been destroyed.

Widespread violence has subsided in Beirut but bombs explode here daily. Several persons were reported injured in new blasts Friday.

Clarence Schultz, principal of the American community school here, said he had received a note signed "The Opposition." It said the school should be in sympathy with opposition forces.

Additional Guards

Schultz said additional guards are protecting the school where 440 children study, but the U. S. Embassy did not advise closing it. American parents were advised to use their own judgment about sending children to classes.

A second Cabinet minister resigned without a reason being announced. He was Beshir Osman, minister of posts and telegraph. Kazem Khalil, economy minister, took over the post.

Premier Sami Solh took over the Ministry of Defense vacated Thursday by Rashid Baydoun who quit because of government failure to control disorders.

Meantime, Saeb Salam, chunky opposition front leader, continues to issue unprintable tirades against Chamoun from his apartment on a hill in Basta, the Moslem quarter of Beirut. He is guarded by hundreds of admirers and armed aides. Barbed wire blocks street approaches.

Relations Easier Between Dag, USSR

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Relations between Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and the Soviet Union appear to be easing again.

U. N. sources disclosed Friday that the secretary general gave a private luncheon Wednesday, with cordiality rampant, for Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov and Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev.

Ike's Disarmament Reply To Be Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's reply to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's May 9 letter on disarmament is to be released Saturday.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen Friday he hopes to make Eisenhower's reply public around 9 a.m., EST. He would not estimate the length of the note.

Pflimlin Appeals To People For Unity On Algeria Stand

12 Indian Babies Die In Hospital Fire

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. (AP)—Twelve small, sick Indian children perished in their beds late Thursday when a fire flashed through a two-story combination Indian reservation hospital and school.

A heroic nun, Sister Mary of the Cross, braved flames and suffered severe burns in rescuing the only survivor, a 5-year-old child.

More than 90 children had left the mission's day school only an hour before the fire was touched off by two unexplained explosions. The building was a shell within 10 minutes. Lack of fire-fighting equipment left volunteers virtually helpless.

The hospital-school on the Anahim Indian Reserve in British Columbia's wild country 60 miles west of Vancouver, is operated by a Quebec Catholic order for the Indian Affairs Department.

Workers had been laying pipe Thursday for a new water supply, and authorities speculated that two oxygen tanks they had been using may have blown up and caused the fire.

Sister Mary, 25, was the only one of nine Anahim nuns on duty at the time. She was brought here for hospital treatment of severe burns of the face and hands suffered in her brave rescue.

The victims ranged in age from infants to a boy of 9.

Army To March On Lebanon Capital

CAIRO (AP)—The Egyptian Middle East news agency said Friday night a popular government has been formed in South Lebanon and it plans a march within two days on Beirut, Lebanon's capital.

Mystery Sub Is Attacked By Argentine Destroyers

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A mystery submarine was attacked by Argentine destroyers and possibly sunk off Argentina's southern coast Wednesday, President Arturo Frondizi has announced.

There was unofficial speculation that it might have been a Soviet prowler but the Russian Embassy Friday discounted that possibility.

Argentina's top sea dog said he thought it was "an unfriendly submarine making surveys of the Argentine south Atlantic coast."

Rear Adm. Isaac Rojas, who played a key role in the ouster of dictator Juan Peron in 1955 and later served as vice president, went on to say he had "no doubt at all that a submarine was detected."

Rojas said it was his opinion

Schoolgirl, 10, Mauled By Bear At Racine Zoo

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—A 10-year-old schoolgirl on a Racine zoo outing with about 60 other youngsters from Waukegan, Ill., was mauled by a bear Friday when she passed close enough to the animal's cage for it to reach her.

Mary Heibner, daughter of Kenneth Heibner of Waukegan, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital for emergency treatment. Attendants said her right arm was clawed and bitten.

Thomas Faucett, a zoo attendant, beat off the bear with a stick after he was attracted by the screams of the children.

The attack came at a point where the guard rail is close to the animal quarters.

Tito To Receive Birthday Message

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Relay runners racing over Yugoslavia carrying a message lauding President Tito will present it to him on his 66th birthday Sunday. The message, sponsored by the Communist Yugoslav Peoples' Youth Organization, assures Tito: "No one ever will be able to divert us from the road which our peoples, now more united than ever, have taken under your leadership and the leadership of the glorious Communist Party of Yugoslavia."

Tito's leadership is under severe attack from the Soviet bloc because he has insisted on independence from Moscow.

Attlee In Hospital

LONDON (AP)—Britain's former Laborite Prime Minister Clement Attlee, 75, entered a London hospital Friday night for a hernia operation. Attlee, now an earl, is expected to remain in the hospital about 10 days.

Foreign Aid Bill Approved In Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted Friday to give President Eisenhower unprecedented new discretion to provide aid behind the Iron Curtain. It then approved a $3,707,100,000 foreign aid program.

The committee action would confine the battle act's prohibitions against American economic and financial assistance to only three countries — Soviet Russia, Red China and Communist North Korea.

In its final votes, the committee retreated by a total of 235 million dollars from tentative actions earlier in the week giving the President $1,800,000,000 for military assistance—hardware — and $35 million for defense economic support to allies with which the United States has defense pacts.

Instead, it voted him a total of $2,400,000,000 to be used for both items — 15 million less than the House total — and gave him the discretion of spending $1,800,000,000 on military assistance or $35 million on defense supports, by transferring funds from one category to the other.

Low Military Flights Cut Back

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced Friday night that all military services have agreed to limit the number of jet flights below 20,000 feet in the interests of air safety.

Lt. Gen. Elwood R. Quesada, chairman of the President's Air Coordinating Committee, told reporters that the military services had voluntarily offered to curtail lower level flights.

"Under the voluntary restrictions, no non-tactical jet flights would take off or land under visual flight rules except those flights to be conducted above 20,000 or off the federal airways, or specifically approved by the Civil Aeronautics Administration," Quesada said.

Drought Victims Taken South

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Thousands of hungry, homeless drought victims are being taken from a parched section of northeastern Brazil to Parana State in the south. More than 300,000 people have become foragers for food because of a dry period described as the worst ever experienced in the northeast.

Ships have transported more than 1,200 of the victims to Parana State for resettlement and thousands more are waiting to go.

Insurgents Push Claim For DeGaulle

PARIS (AP)—Premier Pflimlin went directly to the French people on TV Friday night with an appeal for unity in his Parliament-supported program to win back the insurgent French ruling Algeria.

The Alger regime meanwhile hardened its demands for replacement of Pflimlin with Gen. De Gaulle.

Parliament apparently went along with Pflimlin's plea for stronger executive power to cope with the grave decisive crisis across the Mediterranean. The National Assembly agreed to take up the plea Tuesday.

Then going to the people, Pflimlin said:

Save Liberties
"We passionately want to avoid a rupture between France and Algeria. We want to save public liberties."

The nationwide TV speech, a rare thing for a French premier, came shortly after establishment of what amounts to a revolutionary regime by the civilian-military junta in Algeria.

The Alger regime once again vowed to rule Algeria until De Gaulle is in power.

Pflimlin warned all Frenchmen the nation risks being torn apart unless all unite to support the legally constituted government.

He urged government reforms, but said such changes must be made in order and legality.

"It would not be admissible," the Premier declared, "that a fraction of the nation try to impose its will on the entire nation."

Pflimlin did not mention De Gaulle by name, but his repeated references to order and legality appeared aimed at influencing opinion against De Gaulle's bid to take over power through what the general called exceptional procedures.

Puts Out Feelers

Some informed sources said harassed Pflimlin was putting out feelers himself to De Gaulle to help bring the French in Algeria back into line, but this was unconfirmed. Ex - Premier Antoine Pinay apparently got nowhere when he talked to De Gaulle about this Thursday.

News from Algiers that a "Committee of Public Safety for Algeria and the Sahara" — a virtual government—had been organized caused excitement in the Assembly lobbies.

The fact that Gen. Raoul Salan, who holds powers from Paris, attended the inaugural meeting of the committee and signed the document setting it up raised new questions about his loyalty to Pflimlin.

Press Service Merger Seen

NEW YORK (AP)—A merger of the United Press Associations and International News Service is in the offing, it was confirmed Friday. An announcement is expected Sunday.

It was learned that such a merger, long under consideration by the two news wire services, has been under renewed discussion and that, except for formal signing, has been decided upon.

It was understood that there would be no buying or selling involved in the transaction.

Dow Jones, a business news service, said the United Press plans to acquire INS from the Hearst Corp. United Press is owned by the Scripps Howard Newspapers.

INS is operated through Hearst Consolidated. It has an editorial staff of about 400 in this country and abroad and a staff of 65 teletype operators.

Now Jones, in its story, said the impending deal was confirmed by a spokesman for William Randolph Hearst Jr., president of Hearst Consolidated Publications Inc., through which INS is operated.

The spokesman was not named.

There was a slight hitch to the marriage, explained City Detective Guy Woolweaver. Parrish forgot to divorce his first wife and was arrested on a bigamy charge. Woolweaver said, Parrish and his first wife had no children.

Tight Rein On Flying Suggested

Reduce Airways To Insure Safety Gen.
Quesada Tells Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tighter restrictions on commercial flying were suggested at a Senate inquiry Friday as one way to improve the safety of air travel.

Lt. Gen. Elwood R. Quesada, head of President Eisenhower's air coordinating committee, testified "We might well reduce the number of airways" now used by commercial aircraft.

Because of all the air space reserved for civilian air traffic, Quesada said, the military have nowhere to go in some areas.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okl.) agreed that many airways are used very little and that it might be better to have more boulevards and fewer country roads to handle civilian air traffic.

Probe Collisions

Monroney is chairman of a Senate subcommittee investigating recent collisions between airlines and military aircraft and a series of near misses.

The senator suggested the air would be safer if the government fixed an operational ceiling of around 25,000 feet for civil aircraft.

This would allow swifter military planes to fly freely at higher altitudes and reduce the danger of collisions, he said.

James R. Durfee, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, and Oscar Bakke, CAB's safety director, testified that CAB had been considering a ceiling for civil aircraft.

Free To Use Space

"If you are going to talk about it forever you are going to have some of these boys (jet pilots) flying into civilian planes again. Why can't you get busy and do something about it?" Monroney said.

Durfee said no commercial planes now fly above 25,000 feet, so the military was free to use the space above that.

Monroney insisted it might help if CAB established a ceiling of 21,000 feet, 27,000 or more altitude for civil aviation.

UAW Gets Free Hand

DETROIT (AP)—International officers of the United Auto Workers were given a free hand Friday to reach contract agreements in the auto industry.

At the same time, union leaders at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler promised to keep UAW members working without contracts if new ones aren't signed by the time present pacts run out next week.

These developments came at the end of a solid day of meetings—first in joint session and then separately—of the national councils of the union's GM, Ford and Chrysler representatives.

With the council vote, the national union negotiating teams now have authority to enter full-scale give-and-take bargaining with the companies in an attempt to reach contract agreements.

Highest Paid Man In U.S. Once Worked For 13 Cents

NEW YORK (AP)—The highest paid man in the United States last year once put in a 12-hour day at 13 cents an hour running a turret lathe.

That was back in pre-World War I days, when Arthur B. Homer was a student at Brown University and worked during the summer at the Hartford Screw Machine Co. He was graduated from Brown in 1917.

Homer earned $623,336 in 1957, topping all corporate executives, according to a tabulation by Business Week magazine. He's president of Bethlehem Steel Corp., the nation's second largest steel maker and sixth largest industrial enterprise.

Tall and lean, with a slightly ruddy face, Homer talks slowly and deliberately, getting his point across with emphasis.

A colleague once said of him: "He never has a lot to say. Mostly he just sits there in the back of the room, quietly smoking his pipe. But somehow, by the time it's all over, he's got everything he wanted."

Firemen Unable To Extinguish Refinery Blaze

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Firemen Friday gave up all hope of trying to extinguish a raging oil refinery fire that already has cost millions of dollars and claimed two lives.

"We are not trying to put out the fire now," said Noel Manchester, county battalion chief. "We can't. It will have to burn itself out."

The inferno-like blaze, which spewed rolling black clouds into the Southern California skies, still is confined to the 40-acre Hancock Oil Co. refinery on the north slope of Signal Hill.

It is the worst refinery fire in the area in 30 years, firemen said. It started Thursday afternoon. Firemen have been plagued with low water pressure and the threat of new explosions. Pressure dropped to five pounds at times.

At least 15 huge gasoline, fuel oil and other tanks of highly inflammable fuel have exploded, spewing rivers of fire and showering surrounding communities.

The holocaust was touched off when steam coils in a 60,000-barrel crude oil tank burst. This triggered a chain reaction of explosions. A section of Long Beach Municipal Airport and a nearby hospital were evacuated.

One worker, James W. Edwards, 66, of Fullerton, died a hero's death. He remained behind to shut off a valve and was trapped by the flames. The other victim, Woodward Langford, 49, Los Alamitos, perished after saving four other workers with his warning.

At least five persons were injured, including Signal Hill Fire Chief Lloyd Colson Jr., who suffered severe blisters.

Jury Fixes Death Term For Slayer

Judge Will Hear
Motion For New Trial On June 7

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Bantam killer Charles Starkweather Friday was ordered to die in the electric chair for one of 11 slayings attributed to him.

He took the verdict with the mixture of indifference and bravado which has marked his three-week trial for murder.

He looked at the floor, his back partially turned to the jury, without moving a muscle as the verdict was read.

Starkweather was tried in the Jan. 27 shooting of Bennet, Neb., High School junior Robert Jensen, whose body was found in a storm cave near Bennet with that of his girl friend.

"I don't think they tried me for Jensen," Starkweather told newsmen afterwards. "They tried me for the whole thing," referring to the string of 10 January killings and an earlier Dec. 1 slaying.

Father Goes Along

The 19-year-old red-haired youth's father, Guy Starkweather, who heard the verdict from a chair just inside the courtroom door, said: "I think I'll go along with Charlie. He was tried for the whole thing."

The jury of eight women and four men returned the verdict 22½ hours after receiving the case. Actual deliberations totaled 6 hours, 22 minutes.

Mrs. Starkweather, seated near her son at the counsel table, looked straight ahead and did not blink an eye at the verdict. Moments later she hurried into the seclusion of presiding Judge Harry A. Spencer's office, and sobbing was heard.

Defense lawyers said they will move for a new trial and Judge Spencer set June 7 as the date for a hearing on the motion.

By the verdict, the jury rejected a defense contention that Starkweather was insane when he set out on one of the bloodiest killing rampages in recent years.

In some of seven conflicting confessions introduced at his trial, the undersized, red-haired youth with the bow legs blamed several of the killings on his girl friend and traveling companion, Carl Ann Fugate.

On May 14, awaits trial, she has been charged identically with Starkweather in the shooting of Jensen and his girl friend, Carol King.

The teen-agers were apprehended near Douglas, Wyo., Jan. 29. Highlight of the trial was the reading of the confessions.

Tells Of Slaying
In them, Starkweather told of killing a service station operator here Dec. 1 during a robbery in which he sought money so he and Carl could run away.

Murder took a holiday then until Jan. 21 when an argument at Carl Fugate's home erupted into a triple killing. Slay were Carl's stepfather, Marion Bartlett; Carl's mother, Mrs. Bartlett, and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Nike Blast Cause Probed

MIDDLETOWN, N.J. (AP)—Army experts searched the twisted missile racks at the Nike base here Friday for the cause of the blast that killed 10 men.

The explosion of eight Nike-Ajax guided missiles Thursday also touched off growing civilian demands for an explanation. The blast showered the countryside with jagged missile fragments. The base suffered nearly $500,000 damage. Windows were blown out of civilian homes for miles around.

Army missile experts from Washington and from the 1st Regional Army Air Defense Command at Ft. Totten, N.Y., started an on-the-spot investigation.

All they knew to start with was that an ordnance team was installing a new type of arming device on the missiles when one suddenly blew up. Seven other missiles exploded in a split second.

Six soldiers and four civilians were killed. Two other Army men and a civilian were injured.

Late Friday, the Army suspended modification work on Nike-Ajax missiles throughout the country.

Luber Claims Kovens Helped Engineer Defeat

BALTIMORE (AP)—John C. Luber, veteran speaker of Maryland's House of the Delegates, accused Irvin Kovens Friday of playing a major role in Luber's upset primary defeat last Tuesday.

Luber, a member of the House since 1938 and its presiding officer for a record eight years, accused Kovens, former political leader, of threatening in a telephone call to have him "knocked off."

Kovens, who said he was retiring from politics in announcing his resignation as a member of the city liquor board several months ago, denied there was any threat.

Luber said a threat was made when Kovens called him in Annapolis during the 1958 Legislature to oppose a sales tax increase.

The unseated speaker said he could prove his charge because "someone else was listening in on the line."

Made Up Mind

"When anyone threatens me that is when I make up my mind one way or another," said Luber.

He said Kovens told him that the sales tax increase, ultimately enacted and scheduled to become effective July 1, would cost Kovens' business operations $10,000 a year.

Denying that he had anything to do with Luber's defeat, Kovens said:

"I don't see how I could have. I am out of politics."

"I'll say this: I did phone Luber on the sales tax when he was trying to put the thing through."

As speaker he was in a position to do that.

"I called him as someone in business, as a retail merchant, not as a politician. All the other members of the (Fifth District) delegation but one seemed to have been opposed to the sales tax increase."

The exception was Democratic Del. John P. Fitzgerald, who was also a casualty. Associated with Luber, he did not seek renomination after he was excluded from a "harmony" ticket composed of adherents to two major factions in the Fifth District, groups headed by State Sen. Philip H. Goodman and James H. (Jack) Polack.

Out Of Politics

"All I can say," Kovens added, "is that I am still out of politics. I had nothing whatsoever to do with John's losing the election."

Kovens said he "might have told him I don't think it was good for him politically to vote for the sales tax increase. The sales tax has never helped anybody politically."

The bill to hike the sales tax 50 per cent, from 2 to 3 per cent, tied up the Legislature for seven days beyond its scheduled adjournment.

The jam was not broken until Comptroller J. Millard Taves, who won the Democratic nomination for governor Tuesday, urged Democratic leaders to back the bill.

Luber was one of the leaders called into that pow-wow and he supported the bill on its final vote.

Luber said tonight, "I'd like to ask Kovens, is he with Taves or is he going to be another Republican Democrat?"

Revived Incident

The House speaker revived an incident he said happened last year when Kovens was seeking confirmation as a member of the Liquor Board, Luber said Kovens called on him (Luber) for help in getting the State Senate's approval.

Luber said he went to Guy Johnson, state senator from Cecil County and former member of the House, and spoke with him in Kovens' behalf.

"Kovens publicly said he would never forget me for my help," Luber said, "and then he stuck a knife in my back."

UAR Accuses West Of Backing Lebanon Stand

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Arab Republic accused the United States and Britain Friday of encouraging Lebanon to bring charges against the U.A.R. before the Security Council.

Indications were that the 11-nation council will meet early next week—probably Tuesday—to consider charges by Lebanon that U.A.R. nationals sought to overturn President Camille Chamoun's regime in Beirut with acts of terrorism and rebellion.

Sharp debate was already in prospect, with the Western powers supporting Lebanon and the Soviet Union championing President Nasser's U.A.R.—a merger of Syria and Egypt.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told reporters just before a meeting with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld: "We have a lot of sympathy for the Lebanese complaint." He talked with Hammarskjöld about the general world situation, including Middle East tension.

Lebanese officials were consulting with Western diplomats on strategy. They expected to meet with representatives of all nations on the council, including the Soviet Union.

Abdul Mawgoud Hassan, a spokesman for the U.A.R. delegation, called the situation in Lebanon strictly an internal affair.

He declared the United States by supporting Lebanon is encouraging interference by the Communist powers in the Middle East.

Algeria Leaders Get Rousing Approval Vote

ALGIERS (AP)—Algeria's insurgent leaders got a roaring voice vote of approval Friday from 9,000 people massed before the government buildings.

The new regime—called the All-Algeria Committee of Public Safety—was constituted formally in a ceremony at the white-walled Moorish palace once inhabited by Paris-appointed French governors.

One by one members of the committee appeared on the great balcony to be cheered by the crowd. Each in turn proclaimed that the insurgents will rule until Gen. De Gaulle is returned to power in Paris.

In one of its first acts, the committee appealed to Frenchmen throughout the world to support De Gaulle.

The committee—virtually a self-sufficient government—is headed by Brig. Gen. Jacques Massu, French parachute troop commander, and the Algerian Cherif Sid Cara, a secretary of state for Algeria in past Paris governments.

"We are completely sure of victory," shouted Sid Cara.

The crowd roared back its approval.

The two committee heads are equal and represent the unity of the army and the population since the May 13 coup. In that action French and Algerian insurgents seized power in Algeria from the hands of Paris-appointed authorities.

pal primary and said his campaign is based upon a "positive approach to city affairs—what we can do rather than what we cannot do."

Mr. Marple of 232 North Centre Street, operates Marple's Jewelry Store, TV Sales and appliance Store and a motel. He was an unsuccessful candidate for county commissioner in Tuesday's state-county primary.

In 1954, Marple ran for county commissioner as an independent but ran on the Republican ticket this year. He had also attempted to win the nomination as Cumberland's mayor in 1954.

Cites Challenge

Marple said it is his sincere belief that the city "has reached the crossroads." And, he added, voters face the challenge of selecting "proper" candidates to guide city affairs the next four years, candidates with the best experience and background.

As a businessman, Marple stated he has exhibited faith in the city and the future by foregoing plans to locate elsewhere after his service in World War II. Since that time he has twice expanded his business, constructed a nearby motel facility and a parking lot for the benefit of his customers.

"We must look to the future and think positively," he said, "and must disregard the attitudes of the past."

Marple opposes an increase in taxes but urged that the city consider means of additional revenue without thought of political implication, as a method of reducing taxes.

Too many people, he said, are moving outside the city limits because they get nothing in return for their tax dollar.

Two major sources of revenue, he continued, could be Constitution Park and the Wills Creek-Mechanic Street area.

Installation of amusement facilities at the park and purchase of additional land to house them are part of the revenue plan.

Wants Creek Capped

Marple envisions the Mechanic Street area as a "huge shopping center" and the flood walls which contain Wills Creek covered or "capped" with a platform which would be suitable for parking. By placing the parking area over Wills Creek, revenue would pay for the project in 10 years, no property would be removed from the tax books and federal aid would, in all probability, be available. The city could then rezone the area, and make Mechanic Street a shopping center its entire length.

"From my 23 years as a businessman in the City of Cumberland, I can say that we have not made enough improvements to meet the rising competition from neighboring towns. Unless we reverse this trend, we will lose business and the loss also will be shared by the property owner."

Marple stated recent parking lot developments are a step in the right direction but that the downtown traffic situation still is congested. The Cumberland Thruway will not aid downtown traffic, he asserted, since it is primarily for through traffic.

"I have consistently urged that wide sidewalks on narrow streets be reduced in width to provide easier traffic flow and more metered parking spaces. This, I believe, could be done at little cost to the taxpayer."

Favors Recreation

Then he said he favors recreation and sports but both must be enlarged in scope to serve the needs of both young and old. There must be more entertainment on a year-around basis and he proposed that the city continue to explore the possibility of obtaining a civic center where all types of cultural and recreational events could be staged.

"This is the time for looking ahead, creating more interest on the part of the citizen not only in government but in the city as well."

"I feel business men are needed, men with faith, vision and modern ideas. We cannot sit still and grow. We must act. That is why my conscience would not let me 'set out' the next four years without seeking a seat in council where, I feel, I can use my experience in business to the benefit of each and every resident of Cumberland."

"I have no political affiliation with any candidate, believe in creation of more jobs and better working conditions and am constantly on the look out for new industry," Marple said.

Marple is a member of Centre Street Methodist Church, the American Legion and Optimist Club.

He is married to the former Helen G. White and they have a son, Ronald Lee Marple, who goes to Allegany High School next year.

Prayers To Be Said For CUF Donors

Special prayers of thanksgiving will be offered for contributors to County United Fund at the Salvation Army Citadel tomorrow morning by Captain Daniel Biggs, who, in closing national Salvation Army Week, joins with Commissioner Norman S. The Army recognizes and accepts its responsibility in this community partnership which focuses combined energies toward the goal of a better, more rewarding life for all."

"We feel that we can do nothing better than ask the blessings of God upon the thousands of good citizens who have contributed to the Salvation Army and other agencies through County United Fund."

The hearing was continued for Monday at 7 p. m. at the request of Harold E. Naughton, attorney for Mr. Rattenni.

A laborer at the plant, Mr. Rattenni was charged with insubordination, insufficient performance of his duties, and conduct unbecoming an employee.

Boy Sentenced To Maryland Training School

A 13-year-old Cumberland boy was sentenced to the Maryland Training School for Boys in Juvenile Court after being found guilty of delinquency for the theft of a revolver last week from a local store.

Magistrate Fred H. Anderson imposed the indefinite term on the boy who was arrested by City Police for taking a .22 calibre J. C. Higgins blue steel revolver from the gun case at Sears, Roebuck and Company Store on Baltimore Street last Friday.

The weapon was found in the boy's home by investigators who turned him over to the custody of his parents pending the hearing Thursday before Magistrate Anderson.

The juvenile magistrate said the revolver was one of numerous weapons stolen from the store in April and returned to the store by police who charged Richard Harris McClintock, 24, of Frostburg with the thefts. "KNOWN BUT TO GOD"

Thousands flock every year from all corners of our nation to stand in hushed reverence before the tomb of the soldier "known but to God."

To all others, he is labeled "Unknown." And in this fact alone, there is tremendous significance. No man knows who this boy really was—but God knows!

God knows you, too, as he knows every man, every woman, every child in the world. That means that no matter who you are, no matter what you do, you can never be really "unknown."

You might ask yourself, "Do I know Him?" If the answer is negative, remember that your first step in finding Him is the step that takes you through the door of His house on earth.

Start going to church!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Water Line Connected For New Frostburg Plant

A milestone in the erection of the new underground factory for Frostburg is taking place in the above photograph as Peter Kenney, water superintendent, (with back toward camera), and G. Franklin Martens, assistant, (in ditch at right), supervise the final connecting of the new 6-inch water line which will carry water from the city limits, down Welsh Hill to the new factory a distance of 2,000 feet or more. The factory is now nearly completed and will be turned over soon to the Undergarment

Company. TEEN-AGE STAR

Dramatic moment in play when Carol, as Janet Willard, seriously discusses love with Bert Brinckerhoff, who plays part of Arthur Bartley, classmate and neighbor.

Teen-agers have an idol in one of their own—16-year-old Carol Lynley, who is making quite a hit these days in a Broadway play, "Blue Denim." They besiege her after each performance, seeking her autograph. The play itself deals with adolescents. She has the role of a nice girl who gets into trouble.

Carol, off stage, could be mistaken for many of the girls who crowd her stage door. She likes the sports most of them like—ice skating, swimming and tennis. She likes to listen to the newest records. But she's serious too. She studies hard, reads a lot. She believes education is important and supplements her class lessons with private tutoring. She's a senior at Manhattan's School for Young Professionals.

Home keeps her busy. She lives with her mother and brother, Danny, 14, in an apartment in New York, not too far from the theater. She helps with the cooking, shops for groceries, irons her own clothes, and crochets pretty afghans in a spare moment.

Carol has been acting since she was 10, on the stage and in television. She has also done a lot of modeling. She intends to continue to make acting her career. But she wants to combine it, she says, "with a real home life including husband, children and all that."

Carol, on stage and at home, is pictured here.

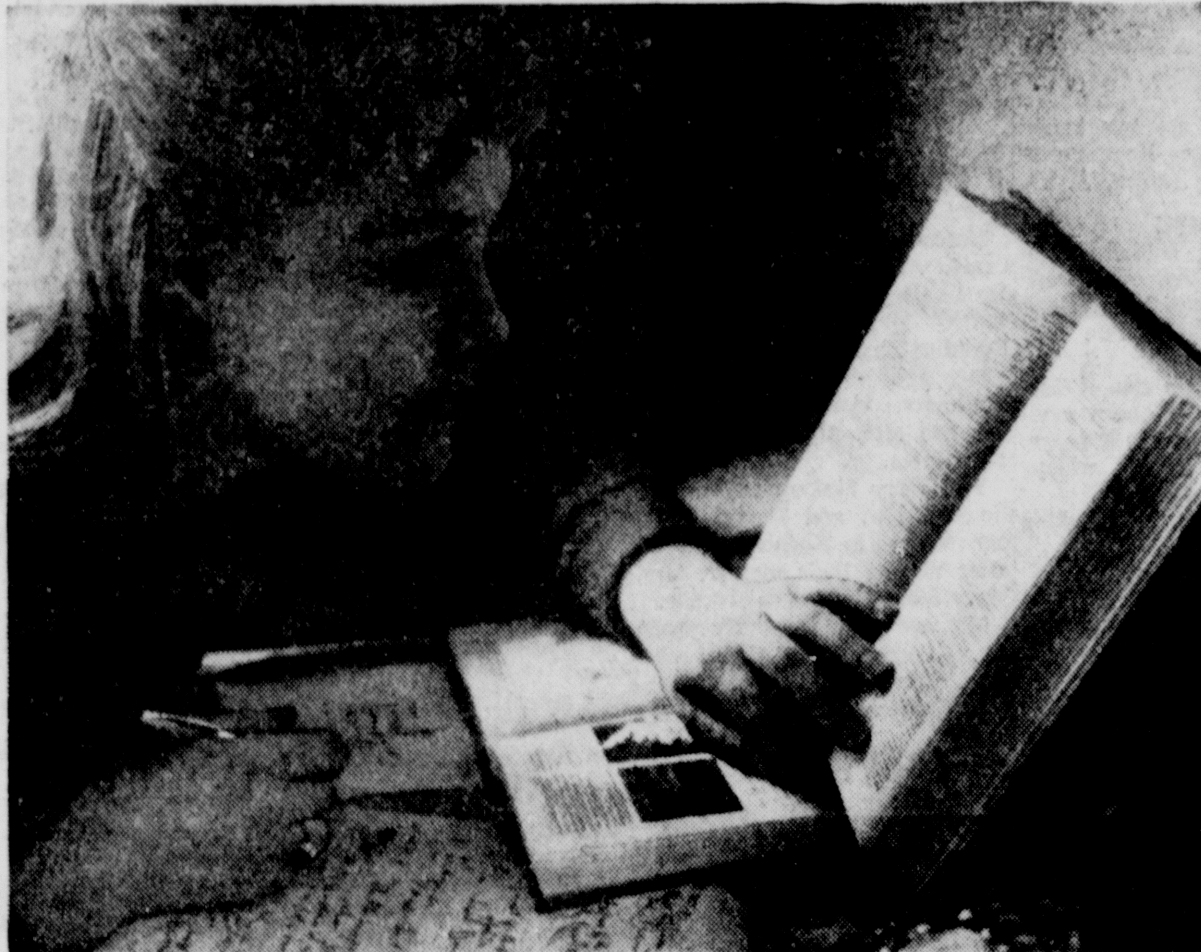

Hemmed in by young admirers after show, Carol mouths pen, wondering to whom should she give autograph first.

Carol tidies up her spring cotton dress just before walking on stage for first act.

She studies hard, at home or at theater between acts. She gets 85-90 grades.

In dressing room, Carol starts prettying up for her role as restive teen-ager in play.

Like many other teen-agers, Carol loves to listen to the newest hit tunes.

Carol is expert with the crocheting needle. She makes pretty afghans for herself and friends.

Senators' View Of Spending

Senator Ellender of Louisiana, enthusiastically seconded by Senator Kerr of Oklahoma, gave a high-ranking Army engineer fits in a committee hearing because of the way he was spending the taxpayers' money on river and dam projects.

In view of the fact that national finances are running into another huge deficit, and the federal debt has already shattered the all-time record, and in view of the additional fact that Lenin predicted the U. S. would spend itself to death and fall easy victim to Communism—and in view of the fact that people everywhere are demanding economy—the first impression would naturally be that the Army engineer was spending too much. This is not at all unusual in that department.

Don't be naive. Senator Ellender was castigating him because he wasn't spending enough.

It happened that one of the main items in the proposed spending spree was "bank stabilization," of the Arkansas River in Oklahoma.

A few years ago a similar "bank stabilization" job was done on the Missouri River between St. Louis and Omaha, the object being to "prevent floods and promote navigation." It cost $250 million, and a battery of non-political experts testified that the floods on this stretch were worse after the "stabilization" program was completed than they were before.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Kow-Tow

Among the games that are played by the Jet Society of New York is the worship of royalty, nobility and European imitations of such. In fact, when one is introduced to dukes, barons, counts and their varieties of spouses, it is wise to assume that much of it is American, particularly the ladyfolk.

Give the little girl a hand! Of course! She has done well by herself and after several marriages, with or without usual sanctions, has achieved the distinction of a good table at the Colony or Le Pavillon. What more can a country girl ask for?

I heard a story the other day about a party given to some boy visiting here, whose ancestors once were kings. He is said to be charming and inoffensive, but the guests were required to curtsy to the poor fellow who must have wondered where these Americans got their manners, for according to no book of etiquette is it required for anyone to curtsy to him even in his own country where he holds no office.

What he needs to understand is that these queer people he met do not curtsy to him because he is perhaps a prospective monarch; they do it to please themselves. It is a bit of play-acting, like wearing coronets at balls or kissing each other's cheeks in deep hatred and competition. It is like admitting courtesans into their homes at the risk of having their husbands whisked away by professional whiskers-awayers who measure a person's worth by the furs and diamonds he can buy and who have their lawyers get a report on his net worth, like a credit agency, before they give the first kiss. This is a business based on the ancient principle, "No tickle—no washe!"

In the same spirit, they play at being part of a European royal court right here in New York and their games would be very amusing were the times not so serious. For some of the foreigners who encounter these imitators of Madame Pompadour see only that much of our country and to them it is tawdry, wasteful, uncultured and materialistic. They return to their own lands full of ridicule, for they say: If the best American society is like that, what about the rest of it?

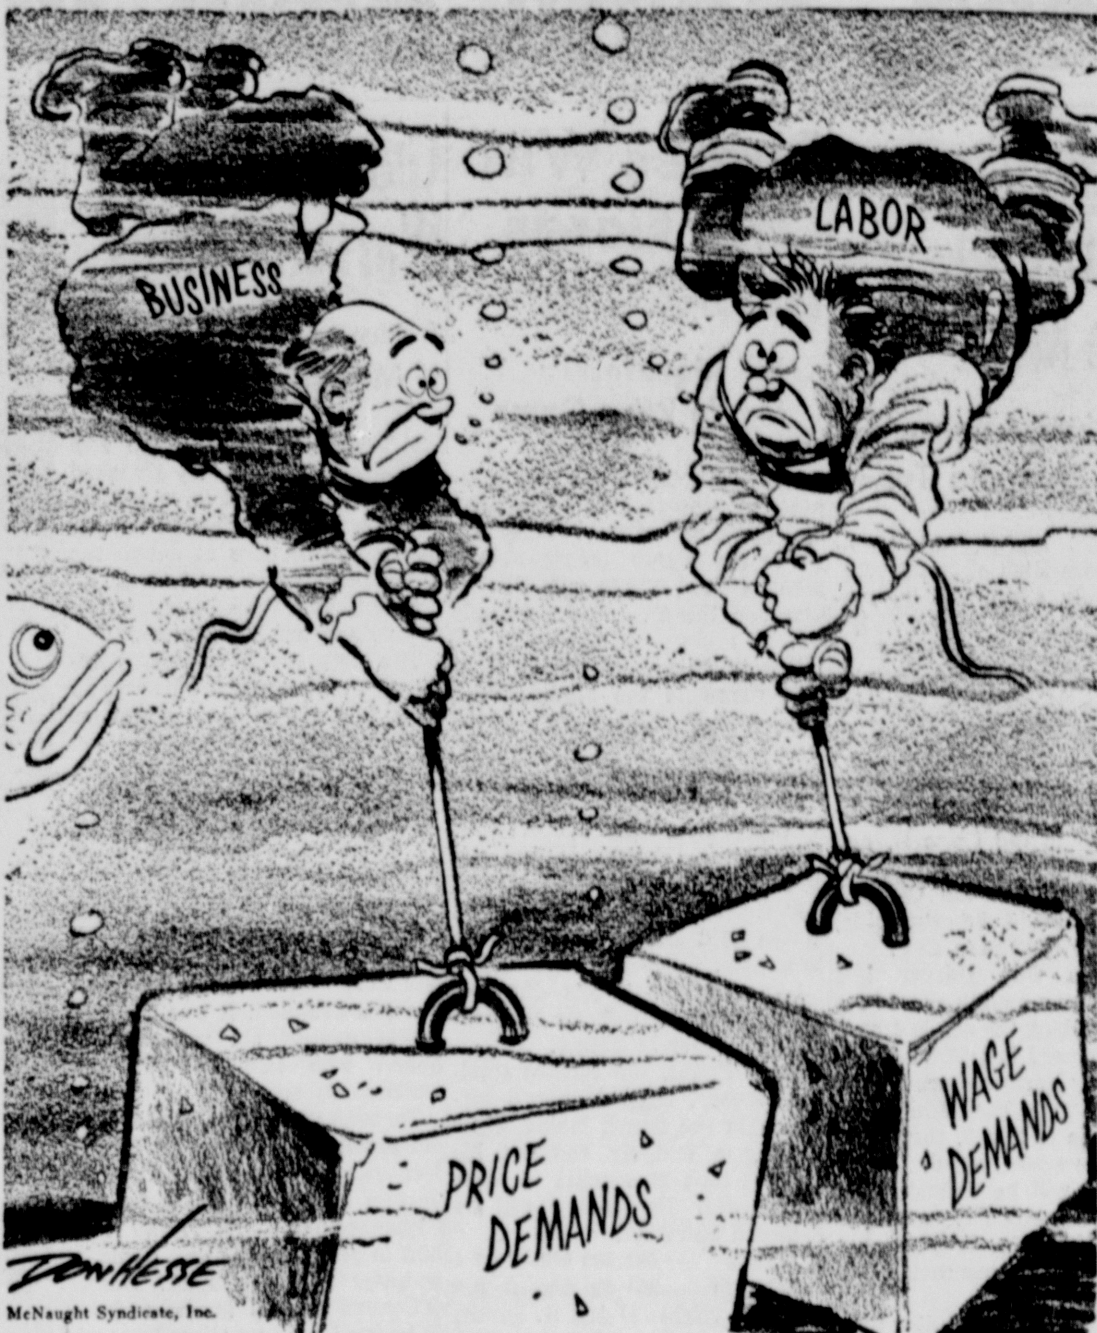

Unfortunately, they have not seen the best of American society nor can they among the merchandisers of New York, where so much seems to be for sale, that even the sellers are tarnished by the rule of caveat emptor!

There is a depth to American life or we could not have sustained our nation in freedom for three centuries and more upon a difficult continent. That depth is not to be found in the frothy play-acting of the spenders who bear out, in their lives, the truth of the American aphorism: from shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in three generations. Nowadays, this is being cut to two generations, for the children either revolt and go into the Church, the Communist Party or take to those escapist habits which I am here partially describing and which lead to decay.

In this country, for instance, there are thousands of young people, to say nothing of oldsters, who enjoy the peace and understanding of a profound cultural life equal to the best in European society. They have no associations with the Jet gang whose status is determined by a headwater. These cultured men and women are doing the constructive work of the nation. They understand the problems of their generation. They often can speak the languages of foreign visitors and know their countries well. They are not bobbies; nor are they pushing. They are builders; it is not necessary for them to reach out to be recognized. They are citizens of a republic and do not bend their knee to any man upon this Earth. Many of them, however, are truthfully religious and fall upon their knees in prayer to God without apology or fear. They are intellectuals in the sense that they use their minds rather than by self-assertion of class affiliation as is so often true in Europe.

These are the Americans, in all parts of this vast country, that the foreign visitor could meet to his advantage, although they would never kow-tow to him, as they would not to any creature upon this Earth. The kow-tow is for slaves.

It's Let Go Or Drown

Cure For Recessions: A Little Self-Discipline

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — When the President of the United States speaks on the business outlook, he has at his disposal information gathered from reliable sources. Particular significance may be attached therefore, to Mr. Eisenhower's latest summing up of the present business situation. He says:

"Reports from the country strongly indicate that the economic decline of recent months is slowing down. Not all our economic troubles are over by any means. But there is a change in the making. That it will prove to be a change for the better, I have no doubt. . . .

"No single person, no single group, however wise and well-informed, can name the day or the week when that upturn will begin. But there is reason to believe that much of the adjustment, which a free economy experiences from time to time, has already occurred."

The readjustment really began more than a year ago. It started slowly but gained momentum toward the end of 1957. During the first few months of this year, however, the retrospective appraisals of what actually had happened prompted many politicians in Congress to predict dire consequences unless the government started to spend profusely. The net effect of such talk was to generate more fear.

Today, the country is suffering from two major pains—the readjustment of economic forces themselves and the psychological effect of "recession" talk. There is no valid objection to the reporting of the news of a recession, but exaggerations and misrepresentations by politicians just to enhance their own position are open to severe criticism as a destructive influence at this time. Many people have postponed purchases of new cars, for instance because they fear their working hours may be curtailed or their jobs may be lost. Until confidence in the future comes back, purchases may be deferred no matter how attractive the prices.

What will produce a renewed confidence? Washington is as much a key to this as are the business leaders themselves.

Political parties are more than ever in need of self-examination. They claim credit for prosperity and they try to impose blame on each other for recessions. But the simple truth is that, in an uncontrolled economy, organized greed produces the recessions. It is the lack of self-discipline which brings maladjustments. The government is supposed to keep hands off the economy, but the net effect is to let private groups run the economy into the ditch. There was a recognition of such hazards in President Eisenhower's speech on Tuesday in New York when he said:

"The American people believe in good wages, both in private and public employment. Good wages reward effort and build markets. But the American people are going to be looking over the shoulders of those sitting at every bargaining table. They want to see whether the wage settlement and subsequent price decisions are consistent with a stable dollar, or whether they mean another dismal sequence of ever-rising costs and prices.

"Inequities in the wage structure must, of course, be adjusted. But consumers are not going to be satisfied with less and less value per dollar of price, which is the inevitable result of less and

Forty feet of perpendicular mosquito netting at 300-spiked feet merely insures the validity of the cat-backed out.

It prevents the left-fielder from properly fielding his Spalding's half-acre. Willie Mays would go broke autographing caps for long-armed fans with boat-hooks.

But the line-drive orthodox homer would be held to a single.

U.S. May Pull Its Atomic Weapons Stockpile Out Of Jittery France

By Drew Pearson

BEHIND THE IRON CURTAIN —The United States is prepared to take drastic action in case of a worsening political crisis in France. Because France is the heart of the NATO alliance for the defense of Europe, and because all supply lines, communications lines, and pipelines run across France, vitally important changes would be necessary in case a hostile government should take over Paris.

Therefore, three alternatives have been decided upon, after careful consideration both in Paris and by the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington. These have been approved by the National Security Council as follows:

1. The United States is prepared to move its entire atomic stockpile out of France. It can be moved at a moment's notice to previously prepared bases in Spain or Germany.

2. In case of disastrous French civil war, the United States would also pull out all military forces to North Africa.

3. If the Communists took over, the United States would intervene militarily — though only as a last resort and only in cooperation with French middle-of-the-road political leaders.

These alternatives may never be used. But in periods of emergency, military plans have to be studied and these have definitely been approved by the highest authorities in Washington. U.S. Friend In Lebanon

It was just six months ago that I drove up a winding road, climbing the Lebanese mountains from the Mediterranean like an amusement park roller-coaster, to call on President Camille Chamoun, now facing civil war in Lebanon.

Along the road were apple orchards. They clung to the mountainside in little terraces — walls of rock, painfully built into the hillside by hand, then a strip of level terrace and a row of trees, then another wall and more trees. It had taken years to hack these terraces out of the mountainside, perhaps going back to the days when this was part of Nineveh and Tyre, or back to the days when the Crusaders battled the Moslems at the foot of these mountains for the retention of the Holy Land.

The apple orchards had already felt the pinch of Nasser reprisal against Lebanon for siding with the United States. Egypt was Lebanon's chief apple market, but Nasser had cut it off. So the United States, at the risk of offending Sen. Harry Byrd, world's biggest apple raiser, had agreed to buy Lebanon's apple crop.

President Chamoun I found to be completely frank and most charming. A Maronite Catholic, affiliated with the Roman Catholic Church, he governed a precarious division of Moslems and Christians, in which it is tacitly agreed that the President shall be a Maronite, the Prime Minister a Moslem, the Foreign Minister a Greek Orthodox, and so on.

I asked President Chamoun the question which John Foster Dulles has been asking himself for a long time: "Can the United States trust Nasser?"

"Not for 24 hours," was Chamoun's categorical reply. He's had reason since to recall the correctness of this statement.

"Your greatest mistake," he went on, "was not to let the Israeli Army continue in Suez for another 14 days."

Why U. S. Fails President Chamoun, faced with revolt by Nasser agents, now has reason to realize more than ever the effects of American vacillation in the Near East. Like the indignities suffered by Vice President Nixon in South America, the explosions of the Near East did not burst sud'enly. They "eroded."

American prestige in the Near East eroded because we have had no policy. It has shifted with the changing minds of those in Washington. And when shrewd, tough Arab leaders know Washington can't make up its mind, they react like children before a vacillating schoolteacher. Here is the record of American policy in the Near East:

1. After Ike took office in 1953, he sent a pearl-handled revolver to President Naguib, then head of the Nasser revolutionaries, as a token of confidence.
2. In June, 1955, Egypt began bartering cotton for Russian arms.
3. In August, 1955, Secretary Benson wanted to dump his surplus of American cotton, but Dulles argued that it would hurt Egyptian cotton. The U. S. Ambassador had already reported that Egypt was trading cotton for Russian arms.
4. Despite this arms deal, Dulles began talking about lending Nasser money to build the Aswan Dam.
5. In July, 1956, Dulles suddenly yanked the promise of the Aswan Dam away from Nasser. He did it so abruptly that an Oriental was certain to save face. Nasser saved face by seizing the Suez Canal.
6. In October, 1956, as the Israeli Army was within a few hours of Cairo and as the French and British bombed Cairo, Nasser took refuge in a cellar in a Cairo suburb. His policies had failed and he feared assassination by his own young army officers. At that time the Eisenhower administration came to his rescue.
7. Dulles then proceeded to boycott Nasser until the day before the Egyptian ruler went to Moscow. On that day Dulles unfroze Egyptian funds in the USA.

This record is why Nasser figures he got away with murder as far as the USA is concerned in the Near East. It's also why the Kremlin timetable for taking over the Near East is working on schedule.

The Best Man Up

By Brother Barnabas

The aftermath of a political primary is not "the benediction that follows after prayer."

In fact, there was no prayer meeting held before the candidates filed; why should there be after?

It was assumed that the parties could run their own business without divine interference, religion and politics having no affinity.

Now that the agony is over some of the aspirants have concluded that if God had been consulted they might have found other ways for serving their country than by holding office.

In the post-mortem analysis one may derive consolation in the reflection that running for office is a gamble, and there are two times in a man's life when he should not speculate, one when he can't afford it and the other when he can; and that's a moral gain. Politics is not a game of penny ante; it is the political side of the kingdom of God.

Decisions — How Made

Vital issues should not be decided by the flip of a card, nor candidates chosen by snipsnap-snap. There ought to be a Univac device by which the man seeking the office and the office seeking the man could get together. Then there wouldn't be so many who also ran.

Once upon a time a runner was elected by the skin of his teeth. He was a card and wore dentures. He went to the justice of the peace to be officially qualified for the office to which he had been elected.

The Jus. P. said, "I can swear you in, but all heaven couldn't qualify you."

A Better Way

There ought to be a better way to secure our leaders without humiliating anybody.

My suggestion would be, first, to have a preparatory clinical examination to find out what proportion of our citizenry has horse sense, and what hasn't.

The first division would be certified to the election board as entitled to vote.

The rest of us would behipped with the idea that we could have milk and eggs for breakfast without pasturing the cow or feeding the hens, and so would be turned over to the psychosis department.

The stay-at-home voters can put us all in jail. When the blind lead the blind we all fall in the ditch. (Luke 6:39).

Looking After The Lord's Work

The other day a cleric went to vote at the primary. He faced a battery of beautiful women. He said he came to look after the Lord's work. One of the beauties replied: "You'll never see a finer piece of God's work than right here. Look us over."

She said a mouthful, for it so happens that many a man would stand a better chance of being elected to office if his wife did the campaigning and he said little and stayed at home baby-sitting.

If he's not married there are plenty of women who would make him a good husband.

Our American genius ought to be able to invent some better method of choosing our office-holders than the lubberly method of running the gauntlet at the polls and pulling a lever behind a curtain in a voting booth when one doesn't know what he is voting for nor more than a cat knows about Sunday.

A simpler method and far less costly would be to have a spelling match, and the candidate who could spell the most words correctly would go to the top and be the nominee in the forthcoming election.

The trouble here would be to find a judge of the election who would know how to pronounce the words, as well as spell them.

In the pre-primary examination the best man up will have a conscience. He will pray as he votes and vote as he prays.

Both the voter and the voted for should have an educated conscience.

Behind The Curtain

When he stands behind the curtain he faces himself, the row of candidates, and his God.

He remembers the genial four-flusher who hailed him across the street the day before the election.

He would like to vote for his neighbor across the street for he has a wife and five children to keep and needs the money, but he is in the other party panel. Besides, public office is not an eleemosynary institution.

He feels that another neighbor has it in for him, nevertheless he will be a good officer and for that reason he will vote for a man like that, thus proving his own magnanimity.

If the candidate is a philanthropist, a wife-beater, dissolute, cruel, irreverent, neglects his children, he should be blown away as chaff.

When Oliver Wendell Holmes was on the Supreme Court bench, he and Justice Brandeis took walks every afternoon.

On one of these occasions Holmes, then 92, paused to gaze in frank admiration at a beautiful young girl who passed them. He even turned to look at her as she continued down the street.

Then turning to Brandeis he sighed: "Oh! What I wouldn't give to be seventy again!"

That kind of men are the best men up in the world of politics, says

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Thurston Morton tells of a political campaign in which, by accident, the rival Congressional candidates met at the same time in a town with only one large auditorium. The sheriff, who had to sweep out the courthouse, told the candidates they'd have to have their meetings at the same time because he didn't intend to sweep twice in one day.

And it was up to this sheriff to introduce the candidates. He arose and said, "I want to present to you a man who, above anyone, has the welfare of each and every one of you at heart. He is devoted to our great and glorious state. He understands, as no other man, the problems of our great nation . . . he knows 'em all."

Then he turned to the candidates and asked: "Which of you polecats wants to talk first?"

In the painter's case a clot was responsible for the disturbed blood flow. In others, a congenital anomaly curtails circulation. Blockage due to arteriosclerosis or other diseases of the arteries is noted occasionally.

Takayasu's syndrome, or pulseless disease, is an unusual case. In this condition, poor circulation to the upper half of the body leads to a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, blurring vision, and pain in the affected arms. There is no pulse at the wrist and the blood pressure is unobtainable. Inflammation of the vessels is suspected because the victim has fever and an elevated sedimentation rate. There is no medical or surgical treatment.

REPLY

The exact mechanism is not known but it is presumed that the drug deadens the centers where pain is registered. It may act by reducing pressure in the brain or by stimulating the adrenal glands to manufacture a cortisone-like substance.

Mt. Savage High School's Indians continued on the warpath yesterday by scalping Beall High School in a 10-inning battle at Frostburg by the score of 3-0, extended their victory string to eight games and retained their half-game lead over Fort Hill High School in the hectic scrap for the championship of the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League.

Fort Hill's defending champions remained in the thick of the fight by beating Bruce High at Westport by the score of 5-2 while Allegany High's Campers swept their series with LaSalle, 6-3, and tied Fort Hill in the race for city championship honors, each team owning 2-0 record. Fort Hill and Allegany have not met this season. By losing to the Campers yesterday, LaSalle finished its city schedule with an 0-4 record.

Aggies Snap Loss String
Flintstone High School broke a season losing streak of eleven games by handing Valley High School a 3-1 setback at Flintstone. Coach "Stony" Jackson's Aggies had dropped 17 consecutive games in two years before they crashed the win column yesterday.

Wayne Fleegle, Mt. Savage southpaw ace, and Dave Richards, Beall's best bet, hooked up in an interesting pitching duel in the Mountain City and the teams battled to a scoreless tie until the tenth when Coach Joe Carter's Indians coupled two hits with a double steal and two errors for three runs and the ball game.

Donnie Lowery started the rally with a single and after Lybarger fanned George Lowery hit safely. After they worked a double steal, Fleegle grounded to third baseman Patterson and when the latter threw wildly to first base both base runners scored. A throwing error by Richards later enabled Fleegle to cross the plate with the third run of the overtime battle.

Pitchers Strike Out 33
Fleegle registered his fifth consecutive win of the season to make his record 6-2. He gave up only three hits, all singles, issued only three passes and struck out 16. Richards, the league's strike-out king, fanned 17 to boost his total of victims to an even 100 in 57 innings. He limited the Tribe to four blows, including Fleegle's double and George Lowery's three-base belt, and walked four. This loss was his third against five wins this season. George Lowery was the only player to obtain two hits.

Russ Jones gained the decision over Donnie McIntyre as Fort Hill decided Bruce. Jones yielded five hits and notched his 6th win against a single loss while McIntyre suffered his third loss against two wins.

Weaver Gets Three Hits
Eddie Weaver obtained three of Fort Hill's six safeties while Broadwater accounted for two of the Bulldogs' five safeties.

Fort Hill spotted Bruce two runs in the first inning and Jones pitched shutout ball thereafter. The Sentinels collected three runs in the second and one each in the fifth and seventh frames.

Allegany exploded for six runs in the second frame in beating LaSalle at Penn Avenue Field. Ten players stepped to the plate in the big inning as Coach Clet Payne's swarms jumped on Bill Blake and Eddie Green for a triple and four doubles.

Campers' Big Inning
"Bud" Allison led off with a triple and scored on Glenn Davis's two-base rap. Brode doubled and Marriot doubled for two more tallies, knocking Blake out of the box. Reliever Green walked Bill Hook and Gary Shook, loading the hocks, and then Wes Broadwater smacked a double for three more runs.

In notching his 5th win against a single loss, Letty Hook mowed down nine via the strikeout route. The loss was the second for Letty Blake against as many wins.

Broadwater and Brode of Allegany and "Doc" Richard of LaSalle collected two hits each. Richard hammered a triple and two-bagger.

Score All Runs In 1st
Flintstone Outlined only one hit off Mike Muir yet beat Valley by scoring three runs in the opening frame. Heavener walked and scored the first run on Bible's two-base hit. Another base on Haggie, Beverly Haggie, Jackie Pung, Marilyn Smith, Wiffi Smith, Mary Iena Faulk, Betty Jameson, Kathy Cornelius, Betty Dodd, Mrs. Alice Bauer Haggie and Bonnie Randolph.

Serving as alternate players were Joyce Ziske, Jo Ann Prentice, Ruth Jessen, Betty Bush, in their tracks by forcing R. Wilson and Warnick to pop up.

Indians Trim Senators, 2-1

McLish Wins Duel From Pedro Ramos

CLEVELAND — Cal McLish tossed a three-hitter Friday night to shade Washington's Pedro Ramos in a pitching duel of right-handers as the Cleveland Indians won their third straight, 2-1.

The Senators scored in the first inning when they collected two of their hits. They were blanked the rest of the way—except for an eighth inning single.

Herb Plews singled to right field, stole second and rode home on Neil Chrissy's single to right in the opening frame.

The Indians tied it up in their half of the first on Gary Geiger's double and a single by Preston Ward.

Cleveland scored the winning run in the fourth on singles by Roger Maris and Russ Nixon and by force out on a grounder hit by Billy Harrell.

Busso Scores In Garden Go

Johnny Decisions Frenchman Godih

NEW YORK — Johnny Busso, a wild free-swinging New York, pounded out a unanimous 10-round decision over shiftless La-houari Godih, the French lightweight champ, Friday night in Madison Square Garden. Godih weighed 140, Busso 140½.

Busso, ranked fifth among the lightweight challengers by the National Boxing Assn., landed the heavy punches in the no-knockdown scrap witnessed by a small crowd and a national TV audience.

Godih, a French-Algerian who now lives in Paris, had an effective jab and a clever counter attack but he was reluctant to swap freely with his more rugged opponent. In the last round, Busso was cut around the left eye as he pressed a heavy attack in one of the best rounds of the fight.

Referee Mark Conn scored it 7-2½, Judge Bill Recht 7-3 and Judge Harold Barnes 8-2 all for Busso. The AP card was 7-3 for Busso, the early favorite who went into the ring an 8-5 underdog.

Hyattsville Favorite In State Meet

22 Class A Schools Will Compete Today

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Northwestern High of Hyattsville, which barely edged out its suburban Washington neighbor, Bethesda-Chevy Chase, for the Class A title last year, is favored slightly to retain its championship Saturday in the Maryland State High School Track and Field Meet.

Twenty-two teams will meet in the Class A runoff. Nine schools are entered in the Class B, and 10 in the Class C.

A dark horse in the Class A competition could be Parkville, northeast of Baltimore City.

Parkville's Guy Harper last week set a new county record for the mile, making the run in 4:38.3. The state record is 4:35.2, set two years ago by Northwestern's Claggett. A teammate, Dick Smith, ran the half-mile in 2:03.3, three seconds off the state record.

Aberdeen will be defending its Class B title, which it won by a large margin—107½ to 60½—over North-Carroll of Greenmount last year.

Centerville is the defending titleholder in the Class C ranks, Washington of Princess Anne was runner-up.

Turley Cops 7th In Row

New York Homers Crush Tigers, 8-1

DETROIT — Bob Turley got home-run help from Gil McDougald, Elston Howard and Yogi Berra and the New York Yankees walloped the Detroit Tigers 8-1 Friday night. The triumph was Turley's seventh without a loss, the Yankee's 10th in succession and sent the Tigers to their ninth straight defeat.

Turley lost his shutout in the ninth inning, ending a string of 26 scoreless innings. This was his seventh straight complete game.

McDougald and Howard each slammed three-run homers, both coming off starter Billy Hoef.

McDougald hit a 3-0 pitch in the first inning behind singles by Hank Bauer and Mickey Mantle. Bauer and Mantle walked before Howard connected in the third.

Berra got his home run in the eighth inning after Tiger first baseman Ray Boone fumbled a grounder by Marv Throneberry. New York ... 303 000 020-8 8 0 Detroit ... 000 000 001-1 6 1

Red Sox Blast Kansas City, 9-1

KANSAS CITY — Boston blasted out seven runs in the second inning Friday night as Bon Buddin and Dick Gernert hit home runs, and the Red Sox coasted to a 9-1 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Willard Nixon, veteran Boston right-hander, held the Athletics to three hits, and was robbed of a shutout by faulty fielding.

After Mike Baxes led off with a pop fly double in the first inning, Nixon got Bob Martyn on a liner to Buddin at shortstop. Don followed with a wide throw to first on Hee Lopez' grounder as Baxes scrambled to third and scored the A's unearned run as Bob Cerv followed Lopez at second base.

Nixon pitched to the minimum 12 batters through the next four innings before Baxes again managed a hit in the sixth, another loop to shallow right field with one out. He was the last batter to run until Martyn singled with one out in the last inning.

SARASOTA, Fla. — Both Sarasota and Clearwater High Schools were prepared for their dual swimming meet, but it turned out to be a dry run. Pirates Win Over Cards In 3-2 Tilt

Bill Mazeroski's Single Wins Game

PITTSBURGH — Second baseman Bill Mazeroski broke up a 2-2 ball game with a run-scoring single in the eighth inning Friday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates trimmed the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2.

Ronnie Kline, with help from Don Gross in the ninth inning, picked up his fifth victory of the season against three defeats. Gross came on with none out after pinch hitter Joe Cunningham opened with a single.

Dick Groat batted in one run and scored the other two and gave Kline invaluable assistance in the field as he came up with 10 assists.

Kline gave up 10 hits—three of them to Stan Musial, the National League leader in hitting.

Hank Foiles, the Pirates' starting catcher, tripped over a tarpaulin in the fourth inning while chasing a foul fly and cut his chin. It took 21 stitches to close the wound. The injury will be X-Rayed Saturday.

Wynn Blanks Orioles, 1-0

Defeats Harshman For 239th Victory

CHICAGO — Early Wynn, the major leagues' winningest pitcher, hurled the Chicago White Sox to a 1-0, three-hit victory Friday night over the Baltimore Orioles.

The big right-hander, scoring his 239th victory of his career and his fourth against two losses this season, struck out two Orioles and allowed only one man to reach third. The triumph was Wynn's 15th against 12 losses in competition against Baltimore.

Wynn was in complete command all the way, issuing two walks and allowing only one hit—an infield scratch—after the second inning.

A crowd of 10,192, braving 40-degree temperatures, saw ex-Sox Jack Harshman suffer his second defeat against five wins. Harshman allowed seven hits but was the victim of a sloppy play on which the Sox scored the game's only run in the third inning.

Redlegs Trim Dodgers, 4-1

CINCINNATI — A three-run scoring outburst plus Ed Bailey's home run helped Cincinnati's Redlegs keep out of the National League cellar Friday night with a 4-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Reliever Hal Jeffcoat had to pitch his way out of big trouble in the eighth inning to protect the triumph.

Two straight singles in the eighth inning had sent Redleg starter Bob Purkey to an early shower. Jeffcoat finally jammed the bases on a walk to Carl Furillo, but fanned Charlie Neal and got Gil Hodges to fly out, ending the inning.

Purkey had little trouble until the seventh inning when Neal banged his eighth homer of the season. He scattered four hits through the first six innings, but didn't strike out a man.

Redleg catcher Bailey, who pulled out of a batting slump recently, whacked his homer in the sixth.

Giants Defeat Warren Spahn

Home Runs Sink Milwaukee, 5-3

MILWAUKEE — The San Francisco Giants Friday smashed Warren Spahn's bid for a perfect game as they thundered from behind on home runs to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 5-3 and increase their National League lead to two and one-half games.

The victory went to Johnny Antonelli who stopped the Braves on three hits, but pitched in Spahn's shadow for six innings. The Giants gained the victory on solo homers by Bob Schmidt and Willie Kirkland and a two-run blast by Willie Mays that decided the game in the ninth.

It was the fourth victory against three defeats for Antonelli, a former Brave. Two of the Milwaukee hits were homers by Ed Mathews and Del Crandall. It was the first defeat against six victories for Spahn who fanned eight and walked only one.

Through six innings the 37-year-old Spahn was bidding for a perfect game. After retiring 19 Giants in a row, he saw three San Francisco batters take away from him in order, the perfect game, a no-hitter and a shutout. Danny O'Connell walked in the seventh to become the first Giant to reach base. The first hit was Mays' single and an infield out by Hank Sauer allowed O'Connell to score the first run.

Falcon Tossers Seek Funds For Trip To Texas

Fairmont State College, winner of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference baseball title, is making an appeal for contributions to send the team to the NAIA Tournament at Alpine, Texas, next month, according to William Burke, Fort Hill High School graduate and athletic publicity director at the West Virginia school.

Ricky Harris, LaSalle High graduate, is the third baseman of the Falcons and earned all-conference honors at that position last season.

Fairmont posted a 9-2 record in the WVAC and split even in a pair of games with West Virginia University outside the conference.

If sufficient funds are obtained the Falcons will fly to Texas on June 3. It costs about $100 a player to make the trip.

In recent years Cumberland and nearby communities have been well represented on Fairmont baseball, track, basketball and football teams.

Contributions can be mailed to "Squib" Wilson, athletic director, Fairmont State College, Fairmont, W. Va.

Girl Scout Camping Plan Outlined To Local Troops

Booklets describing the Cumberland Council Girl Scout camping program, have been distributed to the 64 troops under its jurisdiction. They contain information on troop camping, day camping and established camping, with application forms for the latter two types of camping.

Today will be registration day for established camp. Camp committee members will be at the Girl Scout House on Green Street between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. to take registrations. No places will be reserved at camp without applications and registration fees.

This will be the second year of camping at the council's new camp near Flintstone. The camp has been in use for troop camping since early April. Several weekends have already been reserved for this fall.

This summer, one unit in camp during the second twelve-day period will be devoted to training for senior scouts who are interested in qualifying for the National Girl Scout Roundup, and for girls interested in the first year of the Counselor-in-Training program.

Because of the large number of intermediate scouts in the council no unit will be reserved for Brownie scouts. The youngest campers at the established camp will be those flying up from Brownie troops who will be entering the fifth grade in school in the fall.

There will be Brownie program units at both of the day camps, as well as units for intermediate scouts and an opportunity for senior scouts to assist as program aides.

The Cumberland Day Camp will be held at Constitution Park, June 16-20 and June 23-27. Registrations will be accepted for one or two weeks, and the form which is in the camp folder should be sent to the Girl Scout House by May 28.

The Frostburg Day Camp will be held at the Community Pool there from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. July 21-25. Registrations will be accepted in the camp folder which are included in the camp folder should be given to the troop leader by June 10.

Credits the girls earned through selling Girl Scout cookies may be applied to the registration fee for Day Camp or the board fee at the established camp.

The program in both day camps will include campcraft skills, outdoor cooking, nature exploring, music, crafts and swimming.

Trucker Fined For Overweight

A Grindstone, Pa., truck driver was fined $374.20 on an overweight charge at a hearing before Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

Court attaches pointed out that despite the heavy fine, the driver could have been assessed nearly $23 more if his weight would have been included in the total amount of the overweight charge.

The driver, 382-pound Raymond Twardesky, was stopped by a State Roads Commission weighing crew while hauling powdered stone to a construction site on Martins Mountain. Twardesky disclosed papers showing he was hauling within the legal weight allowed, but when he drove his loaded vehicle onto the scales at the City Warehouse the overload registered 9,970 pounds.

A fine of two cents is assessed for the first 5,000 pounds of overweight, with six cents being charged for all weight in excess of that figure. Thus, when Twardesky was allowed to deduct his weight from the fine total, he was saved $22.92.

Twardesky was using his own vehicle to haul the powdered stone for the Frye Quarry, court attaches said.

County Offers Reservoir As City Recreation Area

The old reservoir located on the county farm property will be turned over to the City of Cumberland for use as a recreation area.

Commissioner William A. Wilson made a motion yesterday at the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for the program. Commissioner James Orr seconded the motion. Commissioner Charles N. Wilkins was not present at the session.

Commissioner Orr said he will attend next Monday's meeting of the Mayor and City Council and formally offer the city the use of the reservoir and adjacent grounds.

It had been planned to destroy the reservoir after numerous complaints were received by the commissioners over vandalism at the location. It was also a hazard to youths who used the reservoir as a swimming place.

Commissioners Wilson and Orr both said they were willing to have the city use the reservoir if it is placed under proper control. The legal question involved in the transfer of the property to city jurisdiction will have to be cleared up before the move becomes final.

Printy Road Is Not In County System

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, told the Board of Allegany County Commissioners yesterday he has checked a complaint over the condition of Printy Road in the Corriagville area and said the roadway is not in the county system.

Roy Strong appeared before the board to ask that repairs be made to Brashear Road. He said that shale would eliminate the ruts on the roadway. An elderly man resides on the road and he is in ill health, Strong said. In case of an emergency an ambulance could not negotiate the road, he added. The matter was referred to Chapman.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved father, Harry R. Rowe, who died May 24, 1957 and of our beloved mother, Annie Margaret Rowe, who died April 2, 1959.
God saw the road was getting rough. The hills were hard to climb. He gently closed their loving eyes. And whispered "Peace Be Thine." Their weary hours, their days of pain. Their weary nights are passed. Their every patient, worn-out frame. Have found sweet rest at last.

Relief Sought From Pollution

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received a letter from Mrs. Joseph Robertson, Barton, in which she stated that residents on Laurel Run seek relief from the pollution of the stream from sulphur water emanating from a strip mine operation.

She said the people on the stream use the water during summer months for washing and other home uses and the sulphur in the water prevents its use.

In addition to the use by residents for domestic purposes, the stream is also a trout stream for women and children and is stocked by the State Game and Inland Fish Commission.

Commissioner William A. Wilson said the strip mining laws provide that the land be replaced in its former condition after the stripping is completed. He suggested that the matter be referred to Frank Powers, director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines.

The matter of the pollution of the trout stream will also be brought to the attention of regional Game Warden Joseph A. Minke.

Three-fifths of the children born in the United States have mothers between 20 and 30 years old.

Today's the day to start exercising. These show you how to enjoy it.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Get A Lift Out Of Exercise

A college president was credited with the remark that whenever he felt like going in for exercise, he simply napped until the impulse went away. Variations of this attitude seem to be common among women who need exercise for the present and future glory of their figures. Nobody denies the good that exercise can do. It's simply that the idea so often never gets past the thinking stage.

There never will be a better day to start than today. And there's no better way to convince yourself that exercise is really something to enjoy than to lead off with this one:

Stand erect with your feet together and your arms at your sides. Fling both arms vigorously forward and upward high over your head. At the same time, swing one leg straight back from the hip. As you lower your arms with the same powerful swing, swing the leg forward. Keep your elbows and knees straight but not stiff, and work up a good momentum for five swings with one leg, then the other.

Feel that stretch? Muscle stretching exercises are special in more ways than one. They bring a lift that will surprise you, a stimulating sensation of reaching up and out of those settled bones. Remember, it's the settling into your bones that makes you feel old. The flexibility gained from working this exercise up to ten swings apiece with each leg without a stop between will make you feel younger than you've felt for years. And you're ready for this one:

Crouch down with your knees well bent and together. Curl your trunk forward until your head touches your knees. To balance, touch your hands to the floor. Straighten your legs very gradually, and when they're straight, begin to uncurl your trunk, starting at the base of your spine and ending with your shoulders and neck. Then, slowly stretch your arms toward the ceiling. Hold for a count of ten and relax. Three times at first, then on to ten.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 23 (INS)—Sat back of Kay and Clark Gable at the "South Pacific" premiere, and Clark verified that he, Bill Perlberg and George Seaton hope to get Walter Lang to direct "But Not For Me." They have had several meetings with Walter who has read the story and likes it. The only fly in the ointment is that 20th Century-Fox may have something else ready for Walter.

Reminds me, I was shocked at the interview Yul Brynner gave Newsweek in Vienna which stated that when Walter Lang was nominated for "The King and I," Deborah Kerr sent Brynner a wire of congratulations on the direction. Charlie Brackett, who produced "King" and other pictures with Walter, and who, himself, got a rap from the ungrateful "gentleman," said it was outrageous. Charlie said he resented the underhanded way Brynner attacked 20th by putting words in other peoples' mouths.

Sol Siegel who made "Call Me Madame" and many other pictures with Walter, said that he is writing a letter of protest. "Nobody directs Walter Lang's pictures," he said. "His record speaks for itself."

You cannot tear down the reputation that Walter has built up over 35 years by such a silly, immature interview. If it hadn't been for Walter's direction, Brynner would not today be a motion picture star. How big can your head get — with or without hair!

There's a strong rumor floating around that has not been denied — that "Blue Angel," the Marlene Dietrich epic, will have May Britt in the starring role. For a long time it was thought that Marilyn Monroe would be the femme lead but Marilyn has "Some Like It Hot" which will take all summer.

I also happen to know that big boss Buddy Adler is talking to Curt Jurgens about playing the Emil Jannings role in "Blue Angel," but in all fairness I must say the contracts have not actually been signed.

Red Skelton has just notified the Riviera in Las Vegas that he'll be unable to open June 9. He is so heartbroken over the death of his young son, Richard, that he does not feel that he can be a comic or put on any act before the public. At all the rehearsals Red has dissolved in tears, so he's been given a postponement and will go into the Las Vegas night club later.

Polly Bergen and comic Jack Carter have been engaged to replace Skelton. This will be Polly's initial engagement there.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Gene Kelly took off for Honolulu to find Oriental types for "The Flower Drum Song," the Broadway play he is directing for Rodgers-Hammerstein and Joe Fields.

Hollywood will again invade Monaco when Jane Powell goes to Monte Carlo in August to star in a benefit for polio staged by the Monte Carlo Sporting Club.

Don Hartman's widow, Chickie, has leased her Beverly Hills home and moved into an apartment. She's decided to go to work with her friend, Ruth Matthews, who owns several dress shops. That's the best medicine in the world.

Victor Mature, who came close to marrying British non-professional Joy Uppish in Las Vegas recently, may tie the knot when he joins her in London June 20. He'll attend the wedding of her sister.

Screen writer Lewis Meltzer will be a nervous wreck when his play, "Come Kiss Me," has its pre-Broadway tryout here next Tuesday at the Las Palmas. His wife expects their baby that very night.

The Nelson Eddys are off for a Hawaiian vacation aboard the S.S. Leilani sailing June 17. It's getting vacation time and I'd like to be on the ship myself.

That's all today. See you Monday.

NEW YORK # — Tobacco stocks rose from fractions to a point. Most changes were quite narrow. A number of pivotal issues were unchanged.

Turnover was 2,570,000 shares compared with 2,950,000 Thursday.

Utilities edged to a new 1958 high on average. Coppers, some oils, airlines and motion pictures did well. Steels, taking a rest after their recent advances, showed slight change.

The tobacco shares rebounded partially from their sharp setback of Thursday when they reacted to a statement by a tobacco marketing official who predicted a new health scare. A denial of the statement by a government scientist who is preparing a three-year report on the causes of death among war veterans helped the tobacco stocks.

The market rose from the start and had expanded its gains nicely by early afternoon. There after some of the best advances were clipped.

Trading slowed. Pre-weekend caution was evident.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 30 cents to $169.60, insuring a good rise for the week. The industrials were up 20 cents, the rails up 40 cents and the utilities up 10 cents to their newest peak for this year.

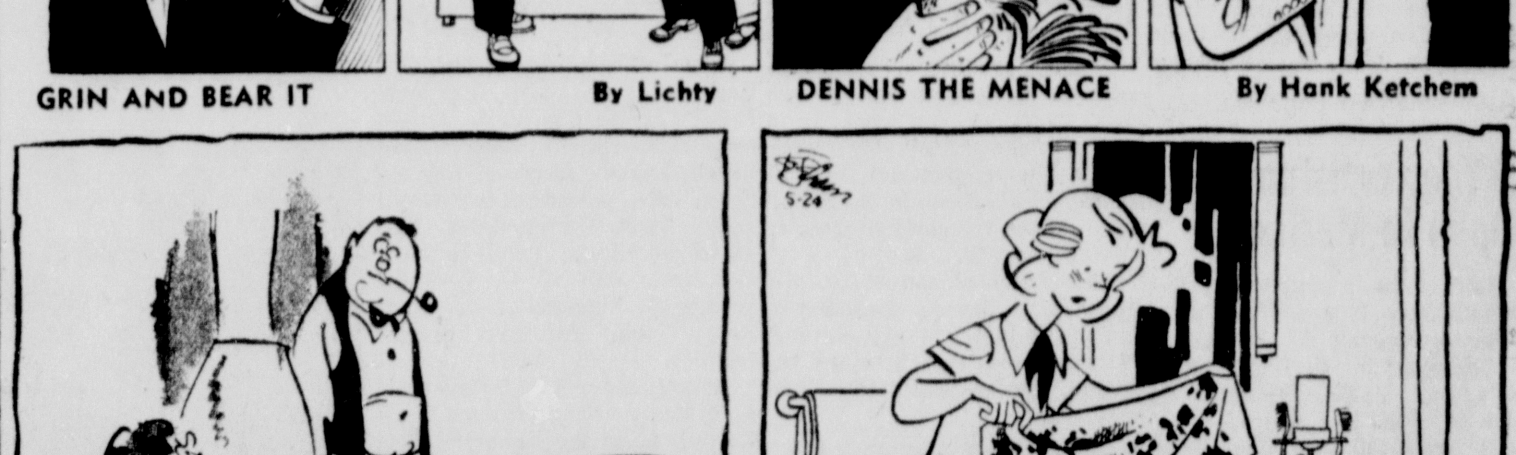

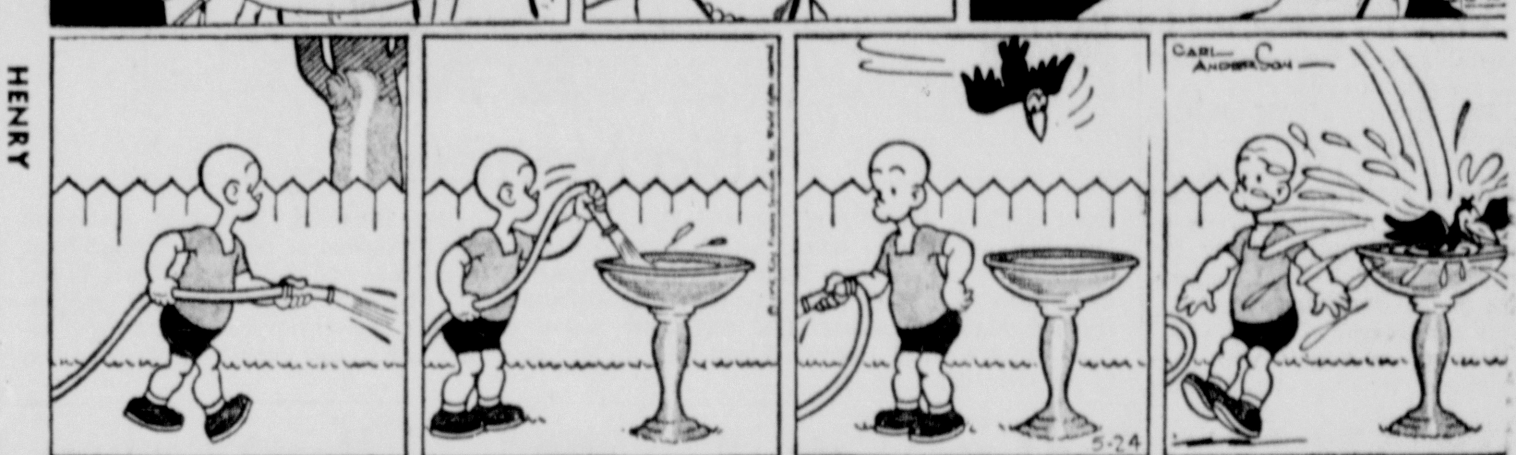

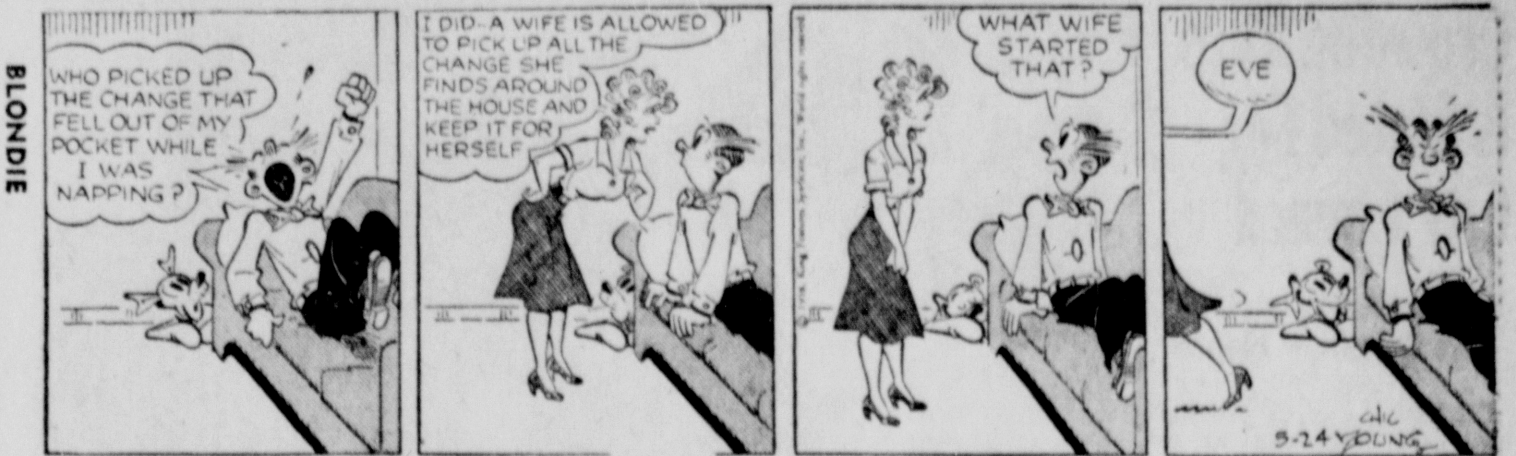

Of 1,190 issues traded, 559 rose and 371 fell. New highs totaled 116. New lows were only three. Columbia pictures preferred, Kroehler and Pittsburgh Screw & Bolt.

American Stock Exchange prices were irregular. Volume was 870,000 shares compared with 810,000 Thursday.

Crowded Race Is Slated For City Council

Filing Is Heavy As Deadline Nears

Candidates for City Council totaled 16 last night as the deadline for filing passed. Only two were making a bid for the Mayor's post.

They will compete for four $1,800 a year, four-year terms on the City Council.

There were no new candidates, however, for mayor, which would automatically place Mayor Roy W. Eves and J. Edwin Keech Jr. on the general election ballot.

Filing yesterday morning were Lee Marple and Charles B. Hornbrook.

The parade began last night as G. Ray Light and Keith T. Sisk qualified.

The 13th candidate to file was Mrs. Lucile Roeder, who served as street commissioner from 1950 to 1954, when she was defeated in a mayoral contest by Mayor Eves.

Glenn K. Davis, 515 Dreyer Avenue, became the 14th candidate. A local businessman, he placed sixth in Tuesday's contest for county commissioner.

Filing just before the deadline were George H. Tederick, 186 Thomas Street, and Harry E. Shobe, 702 Holland Street.

Mr. Tederick, who served as commissioner of water and electric light from 1950-1952, filed before City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery at 11:45 p. m.

Mr. Shobe, of 702 Holland Street, filed at 11:50 p. m. to become the 16th candidate. He operates Shobe's Service Station on Virginia Avenue and was an unsuccessful candidate for Republican State Central Committee in Tuesday's election.

Council candidates who have qualified for the city primary are:

William H. Buchholtz, 713 Fayette Street, commissioner of streets and public property, who is seeking his third term.

Cecil C. Clark, 148 North Mechanic Street, president of Local 489, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union, who will be making his fourth campaign for the office.

Melvin G. Cline Sr., 1121 Ella Avenue, who operates the Cline Sports Center at his home, will be making his first try for city ofice.

Glenn K. Davis, 515 Dreyer Avenue, who placed sixth in the race for County Commissioner in Tuesday's primary election.

Philmore F. Fleming, 516 Sheridan Place, is local manager of Maryland Hospital Service, Inc., and is making his first political bid.

Charles B. Hornbrook, Winifred Road, photographer for the Times and Alleganian Company. He is making his second bid for the post.

Lionie I. Jackson, 531 Patterson Avenue, making his first Council try, is a foreman at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant.

William V. Keegan, 310 Cumberland Street, is seeking his fourth term on the Council.

G. Ray Light, 422 Arch Street, manager of the Maryland Theatre, is another first-time candidate.

John J. Long, finance commissioner, 518 Ridgewood Avenue, is seeking his fourth term on the Council.

Lee Marple, 232 North Centre Street, who ran for Mayor in 1954.

Harold K. Ritter, 521 Williams Street, B & O worker and co-owner of Ritter's Grill on Baltimore Avenue.

Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, 808 Trost Avenue, who served as Commissioner of Streets and Public Property from 1950 to 1954.

Harry E. Shobe, 702 Holland Street, He operates Shobe's Service Station on Virginia Avenue.

Keith T. Sisk, 306 Bedford Street, making his second try for Council, is supervisor of photography at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

George H. Tederick, 186 Thomas Street. He served as commissioner of water and electric light from 1950-1952.

Marple Statement

Mr. Marple, North Centre Street businessman, filed yesterday as a candidate for City Council subject to the June 3 municipal election.

Red Cross Gets 2,829 Pints Of Blood In County

Residents of Allegany County donated 2,829 pints of blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank during the fiscal year now ending.

In her report at the annual meeting of the County Red Cross Chapter this week, Mrs. Harry Beneman, blood program chairman, pointed out that the Bloodmobile unit from Johnstown, Pa., made 21 visits to the county.

Of these visits, 10 collections were made at the home of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, four at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory at Pinto, two at Works 7, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company at North Branch, and one visit each to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company Back Shops and the Amcelle plant.

Also the bloodmobile unit visited the Frostburg branch chapter four times, Westport-Piedmont three times and Lonaconing twice.

This collection of blood was made to the chapter at a local cost of $1,315.40 which includes canteen, publicity, printing and operation of the motor corps.

Mrs. Beneman stressed that "nothing could have been accomplished without the untiring efforts of our corps of volunteers who have given so many hundreds of hours of willing service."

She also pointed out the co-operation of the Fraternal Order of Eagles who have graciously donated for the past seven years and at no cost to the chapter, the rooms wherein the collection is made.

The next visit of the bloodmobile unit to Cumberland will be on Monday, June 2, when it will be at the Eagles home from noon until 6 p. m. The following day the unit will visit Works 7, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant.

Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association at its 10th anniversary dinner meeting in the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom paid special tribute to past presidents, its founders, and to volunteers who have rendered special service in the fields of education, care of the victims of heart disease, and fund raising.

F. Allan Weatherholt, who was re-elected president during the business session which followed the anniversary meeting, presented, on behalf of the American Heart Association and the Heart Association of Maryland, special distinguished service awards to Dr. Samuel Jacobson, founder and first president of the local association; to Thomas F. Conlon Sr., a charter member, past president and treasurer of the association; Ernest B. Treat, past president who served three consecutive terms; Mrs. John G. Special Awards

A special distinguished service award was presented to Mrs. Helen Kauffman as a posthumous honor for David Kauffman who served as president of the association, helped in the reorganization, drawing of by-laws and constitution, and proposed the formation of the Allegany-Garrett County Association by extending the service and coverage of the Allegany County group to Garrett County.

Brian O'Connell, executive director of the Heart Association of Maryland, who was guest speaker at the dinner, said that the hospital plan has been using its reserves to pay its way, but he argued the drain could be stopped by closer adherence to the established program.

15 New Members To Be Initiated

Maryland State Aerie officers of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, headed by Richard T. Bruchey, of Frederick, will visit Cumberland Aerie 245, F.O.E., tomorrow when the May district meeting will also be held.

Herman L. Myers, state secretary, said last night the meeting of the state officials will begin at noon. Officers from Baltimore, Washington, Brunswick, Hagerstown, Frostburg and Cresaptown will be present.

Final plans for the state convention the last week in June at Frederick will be drawn up at the meeting, he added.

The district meeting will begin at 2 p. m. under the chairmanship of George Beniston, of Washington, state district chairman of the Eagles.

During this meeting, Mr. Myers added, there will be a class initiation of 15 new members who will join the local Aerie.

Blue Cross Hearings Concluded

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two labor officials said today the Blue Cross hospital plan has not justified its pleas for higher rates.

Later, a spokesman for Baltimore hospitals defended the proposed 22 per cent hike, as the State Insurance Commission wound up four days of hearings.

It appeared the hearing would take several days next week as well.

Speaking out against the proposed rate increase were W. F. Strong, president of the Maryland State and DC AFL-CIO and Edward H. Johns, president of the Baltimore Council of AFL-CIO unions.

Johns said that Blue Cross had made "quite a contribution to the Maryland community" but that it should re-evaluate its program to provide subscribers with "even better coverage at more reasonable rates."

Strong conceded that the hospitalization plan has been using its reserves to pay its way, but he argued the drain could be stopped by closer adherence to the established program.

"Blue Cross takes too much for granted and should know more about what's going on in the hospitals," he said.

Both Johns and Strong suggested the system should have more representatives of the general public sitting on the policy-making board. Ralph B. Murphy, executive director of the Hospital Council of Baltimore, said it would be wrong to encourage any idea that hospital costs could be lowered substantially.

And he stated that it wouldn't make much difference in hospital costs, and consequently Blue Cross rates, if patients who come in for diagnostic services were weeded out. Actually, such exploratory cases are not supposed to be taken care of under the Blue Cross plan.

Canvass Makes Slight County Election Change

The Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors yesterday completed the official canvass of Tuesday's county election and made only minor changes in the totals for most of the 84 candidates whose names appeared on the ballot.

There was a change in positions in the 16-man Republican primary for the six nominations for the House of Delegates. When the canvass was complete Delegate Noel Speir Cook had moved ahead of Delegate Fred B. Driscoll for top position, 3,511 to 3,506. The two nearest also-rans also swapped places as John Robb finished officials 11 votes ahead of Robert Lee Jeffrey, 1,928 to 1,917, for seventh and eighth places.

Biggest error was found in the total of the man who needed it least, William A. Wilson, who led in the 12-man fight for the three Republican nominations for county commissioner. In Election District 22 1-2-3, voting at the Armory on South Centre Street, the Tuesday night returns gave Mr. Wilson only 25 votes. Knowing that his parents still live in that district, he made a little wagger Tuesday night that the total was wrong. The canvass showed he actually got 125 votes, not the 25 reported by poll officials.

In general, the Republican primary results show a reliance on familiar faces. Most incumbents were re-nominated. In two places where incumbents did not run for re-election, persons who formerly held the posts got the nominations. Estel C. Kelley, former member of the House of Delegates, won nomination to the House again succeeding George R. Hughes Jr., who relinquished his seat to vie for the State Senate. Simeon W. Green, a former county commissioner, got the third GOP nomination for county commissioner, filling the gap vacated when C. N. Wilkinson declined to seek re-election.

The closest contest became even closer when J. Kenneth Morgan, a political newcomer, edged out Ernest B. Treat by only seven votes for the seventh position on the Republican State Central Committee. The unofficial returns had Mr. Morgan ahead by 14 votes. After the canvass was over, he had 2,345 to Mr. Treat's 2,338.

Only on the State Central Committee did Republican voters show a tendency for change. Three newcomers were elected to the committee, including Woodrow W. Gurley, Thomas W. Williams and Mr. Morgan. Two incumbents by appointment, Mr. Treat and J. Irvin Martin, lost out.

On the Democratic side, the majority of those voting chose the "harmony" ticket for state-wide offices and the winner in the five-man race for Congress. J. Millard Tawes, who polled 4,002 votes against three token opponents for Governor, was the leading vote getter.

Locally, the leader was Edward J. Ryan who led five incumbents to victory on the Democratic State Central Committee as he polled 3,515 votes. He succeeds the late James E. Kenny on the committee.

The official totals released after the canvass was completed:

Railway Plans To Demolish Freight Shed

Will Provide Space For Parking Center

A big boost in the downtown's parking facilities was assured yesterday afternoon as the Western Maryland Railway secured a city permit to demolish its freight shed and Western Division freight office on South Mechanic Street.

Razing of the buildings and adjoining facilities will provide space for a 100-car parking facility in the heart of the business district.

Plans of the railway call for the installation of drainage facilities and the blacktopping of the area, which will be leased for a private firm for operation.

Will Be Moved

The freight office will be moved to the Fidelity warehouse on Canal Street and freight handling will be carried on in the Canal Street freight shed.

The additional downtown parking space was provided in March when a 70-80 car parking center was opened on Union Street by the Downtown Parking Corporation.

This center was leased to the Coach System Parking Company. The City recently closed Canal Street at the request of the carrier and Mayor Roy W. Eves reported yesterday that satisfactory arrangements have been made by the railway with the People's Furniture Store on access to Canal Street.

Three Homes Planned

Permits for the construction of three dwellings at a total cost of $31,000 were issued by the Engineering Department yesterday.

Dennie W. Bobo, Cresaptown, secured a permit to build a 74 by 29 foot, one-story home on the Bedford Road. It will be of brick veneer construction and cost about $16,000.

Jack H. Weaver, 19 Sommer-ville Avenue, secured a permit for a 56 by 25 foot brick dwelling on Lots 48-50 of Moran Avenue. The one-story home is estimated to cost $8,000.

Allegany Homes Company, 16 North Liberty Street, received permission to build a one-story dwelling at 2 East First Street. The brick veneer dwelling will cost about $7,000.

Confirmation Planned Here

Tomorrow, Pentecost Sunday, at 11 a. m., 16 young people of St. John's Lutheran Church will be confirmed by Rev. Russell E. Fink and Rev. Robert C. Huddle, pastors.

The occasion is significant in that Pentecost Sunday marks the birthday of the Christian Church and also will mark the reception of the young people into church membership.

Those to be confirmed are Francis Aldridge, George Bennett, Sharon Blume, Deborah Boden, Evelyn Brown, Mary Brown, Edward Davies, David Hensel, Edward Holshey.

Shirley Johnson, George Kirby, David Lewis, David Lynch, Michael Miller, Tana Sensabaugh and Charlene Sibley. These persons have concluded a year of study on the doctrines and practice of the Lutheran Church.

The parents of the confirmants will also be participating in the service, standing behind their children as the rite of confirmation is administered. This custom is symbolic of the cooperation between home and church in the religious education of young people.

Condemnation Suit Filed

A condemnation suit for property needed by the State Roads Commission for the proposed Industrial Highway in South Cumberland was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Defendants in the suit are Paul C. Beatty and Anna Beatty, his wife, who live at 8212 Liberty Road, Baltimore.

This property sought includes 3,950 square feet in the vicinity of Springdale Street. Filed with Joseph E. Boden, clerk of court, was a check for $15,000, which the SRC considers a fair price for the property needed.

This Industrial Highway will run from State Route 51, some three-tenths of a mile east of Evitts Creek to Thomas and West streets. The declaration was signed by Attorney General C. Ferdinand Sybert, Joseph D. Buscher, special assistant attorney general, and William C. Walsh, special attorney.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. James Quinn, Bedford Road, announce the birth of a son yesterday at Miners Hospital, Frostburg.
